

TURKS BOMBARD SEBASTOPOL RAILWAY AND DOCKS

THREE MORE MAY ENTER

Eleven Powers Are Now at War.

GREAT BRITAIN AND RUSSIA ARE READY

Allied Nations Plan to Deal With Turkish Invasion.

London, Nov. 2.—Turkey definitely has thrown in her lot with Austria and Germany and if Portugal is counted there now are eleven powers at war, with prospects of three more—Greece, Bulgaria and Rumania—being drawn in.

The note which Great Britain presented to Turkey on Friday last, demanding an explanation of the actions of the Turkish fleet in the Black sea and the dismantling of the former German cruisers, the Goeben and the Breslau, was really an ultimatum to which Turkey was required to make a reply by Saturday evening.

So far as is known here, telegraphic communication with Turkey being interrupted, no answer was made and the ambassadors at the Ottoman capital of the triple entente, it is understood, demanded and received their passports.

Turkish troops, which had been on the Egyptian border for some time, already are reported to have crossed the frontier, while the Turkish fleet continues to menace Russian towns and shipping in the Black sea.

Britain and Russia Ready.

Neither Russia nor Great Britain was unprepared for this move by Turkey, which, government officials say, was known to have been under the influence of Germany, and the allied powers have forces on hand ready to oppose a Turkish invasion.

When the regular forces were withdrawn from Egypt to take part in the war in Europe they were immediately replaced by troops from home much greater in numbers, at least, and only last week they paraded through the streets of Cairo, making a splendid impression.

The problem both for England and Russia, however, is the attitude of their Moslem subjects, who under ordinary circumstances would prefer not to fight against Turkey. In this war, however, they have rallied to their flag, as have all other races under British or Russian rule, and care is being taken to explain to them that in this case Turkey, under the direction of Germany, has been the aggressor.

TURKEY TO HOLD CONSULS

Russians Will Not Be Permitted to Leave.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Turkey has announced that Russian consuls in the Ottoman empire will not be permitted to leave until assurances of safe conduct are given Turkish consuls in Russia, according to a cablegram from Ambassador Morgenthau to the United States government.

The Turkish minister of the interior informed Mr. Morgenthau that the Turkish warships within the last three days had bombarded Sebastopol.

Servia has asked the United States through Mr. Morgenthau to look after her diplomatic interests at Constantinople "in case of war with Turkey."

Great Britain and France have placed their interests in Turkey in the hands of the American embassy, and the Turkish consul at Havre has turned over his consulate to the United States and is preparing, along with other Turkish consuls, to leave France.

SECRET WIRELESS STATION

French Are Unable to Locate German Telegraph Office.

Paris, Nov. 2.—A wireless station, the location of which has not been discovered, is being used by the Germans to report all movements of the French troops, according to statements made to General Pierre Cherfils by wounded soldiers brought back from the front.

Every effort has been made to find the mysterious station, but without result.

General Cherfils mentions this in illustrating the thoroughness of the German system of making war. Their absolute knowledge of all parts of the country has permitted them to make arrangements which are serving them well. At Lassigny, a mushroom pasture was found to have been converted into a munition depot while a spot near Dixmude had been prepared for some time to receive German wounded.

GERMANS CONTINUE

TO FORCE FIGHTING

Tremendous Losses Are Occurring in Western Zone.

London, Nov. 2.—The fighting in Flanders and in France has been a repetition of that which has been going on for days past. The Germans have continued to push their attack, which aimed at placing them in possession of the French coast ports, but, as before, it has been a ding-dong affair, first one side making progress, only to lose the ground gained the next day or night.

From the point of view of the allies their position is satisfactory, as the Germans are no nearer their goal than a week ago.

There have been tremendous losses, which, for once, cannot be exaggerated. While the capture of a few prisoners and guns from one side or the other is a matter of daily occurrence fighting has become more severe along the river Aisne, in the Argonne forest and along the river Meuse between Verdun and Toul, but so far without making any appreciable change in the fronts of the two armies.

The German armies are said by the Russians to have been defeated before Warsaw and Ivangorod. They continue to fall back and the new Russian front now extends in a semi-circle from Plock, northwest of Warsaw, through Lodz and Piotrkow to Ostrowiec, southwest of Radom.

In Galicia the Russians are having more difficulty in dislodging the Austrians from their positions on the River San.

Avalanche Kills Soldiers.

Berne, Switzerland, Nov. 2.—A huge avalanche overwhelmed a detachment of Swiss soldiers near St. Maurice. Four of the men were instantly killed and two severely injured. Eleven were dug out alive.

Special to The Dispatch:—

Petrograd, Nov. 2, 11:35 A. M.—The former German cruisers, Goeben and Breslau and four Turkish torpedo boats bombarded the shore near Sebastopol, shelling railroad and docks. The Russian shore batteries replied and the warships disappeared to the eastward.

GERMAN ASSAULTS REPULSED AT YPRES

Special to The Dispatch:—

Paris, Nov. 2, 11:35 A. M.—German assaults made last night in another attempt to take Ypres were repulsed with heavy losses, according to official reports reaching military headquarters today. The Allied forces were reported within a few miles of Ostend.

TEWFIK PASHA HANDED PASSPORTS

Special to The Dispatch:—

London, Nov. 2, 11:35 A. M.—The Turkish Ambassador to Great Britain, Tewfik Pasha, has handed his passports today.

LONDON REVIEWS WAR OPERATIONS

London, Nov. 2, 2:50 P. M.—Battles among the sand dunes on the Belgian coast drag on. Advances by either side are only for short distances and are at fearful cost. Farther east the Allies claim to have advanced to the north and to the east of Lille which is reported recaptured by the Allies. In the eastern arena of war the Germans and Austrians in Poland and the East Prussian fronts are retiring to position previously selected and may resume the offensive. In Galicia the Austrians have held their lines and made some progress driving the Russians beyond the San river.

21 RAILWAY DIRECTORS INDICTED

New York, Nov. 2, 2:50 P. M.—Criminal indictments were returned today by the United States government against 21 directors and former directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad company including William Rockefeller, Theo. N. Vail, George F. Baker, William Skinner, Chas. F. Brooker and John L. Billard.

TWO BURNED IN AUTOMOBILE

Young Man and Woman Perish Near Warsaw, Ind.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 2.—Roy Hall, twenty-three years old, and Mrs. Howard Jackson, sixteen years old, were burned to death when an automobile in which they were riding turned over near here. The wreckage caught fire.

SAYS RAILROAD CAUSED FIRE

Government Seeks to Collect Damages for Alleged Carelessness.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 2.—Suit has been started in the federal court against the Great Northern Railway company by United States Attorney Wheeler to collect damages totaling $223,853.08. The damages are asked as the result of a forest fire in July, 1910, on the Flathead and Lewis and Clark national forest reserves, during which 107,605,860 feet of merchantable timber was burned.

The fire is alleged to have been caused through the carelessness of contractors in the employ of the railway company.

REBELS SUFFER REVERSE

Colonel Alberts Defeats Boers in South Africa.

London, Nov. 2.—A dispatch from Capetown to Reuters says: "Colonel Alberts has defeated the rebels in the Lichtenburg district of the Transvaal, killing thirteen, wounding thirty and capturing 240. Among the captured is Commandant Claussens."

"Commandant de Villiers was out reconnoitering when he met a strong rebel commando with white flags attached to their rifles. The rebels attacked him and captured 110 of his men."

"The rebels then advanced against Colonel Alberts' force from two directions, but Alberts defeated them and chased them twenty miles across the border. In their flight the rebels discarded their carts and bicycles."

ENORMOUS GERMAN LOSSES

British Soldiers Said to Have Buried More Than 25,000.

London, Nov. 2.—"As showing the huge German losses in the Ypres region it is said that the British soldiers have buried more than 25,000 Germans," says a message to the Weekly Dispatch from one of its correspondents in Belgium. The telegram continues:

"There are many great piles of German dead around Dixmude, which it has been impossible to bury on account of the continuous fighting. Dixmude is a heap of ruins. The only inhabitant remaining is an aged peasant woman who refuses to quit her ruined home."

MILLIONS FOR WAR VICTIMS

Rockefeller Foundation Will Relieve Noncombatants.

VESSEL ALREADY CHARTERED

Ship Laden With Tons of Provisions

Will Sail for Relief of Starving Belgians—Commission Will Go to Europe for Purpose of Reporting How, When and Where Aid Can Be Rendered.

New York, Nov. 2.—The Rockefeller Foundation has determined to employ its immense resources for the relief of noncombatants in the countries afflicted by the war and stands ready to give "millions of dollars if necessary" for the purpose. This was announced by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., president of the foundation.

In pursuance of this philanthropy the foundation will send a commission to Europe in a few days to report first hand as to how, when and where aid can be rendered most effectively. At a cost of $275,000 it already has chartered a ship and loaded it with 4,000 tons of provisions for the relief of the starving Belgians.

"This action is taken," Mr. Rockefeller says, "as a natural step in fulfilling the chartered purposes of the foundation, namely, 'to promote the well-being of mankind throughout the world.'"

The ship is the Massapequa, the largest neutral ship now in New York harbor, and it will sail Tuesday morning direct for Rotterdam and will be followed by the British consul at New York that its cargo is destined for the use of Belgian noncombatants only and should not be delayed in transit.

Consigned to American Consul.

The supplies are consigned to the American consul at Rotterdam and will be distributed by the Belgian relief commission.

Mr. Rockefeller has been in communication with Ambassador Page at London and made public a cablegram in which the ambassador describes the dire need of the Belgians and says that "it will require a million dollars a month for seven or eight months to prevent starvation."

"In fact," the ambassador said, "many will starve now before food can reach them." He added that the British government forbids the export of food and that none can be bought on the continent.

It was in response to this urgent message and a similar one from H. C. Hoover of the American relief committee in London that the foundation decided to send a relief ship "at the earliest possible moment."

Mr. Rockefeller makes clear in his announcement that whatever steps are taken by the foundation in the administration of relief work will be "absolutely neutral."

The commission of investigation will be headed by Wickliffe Rose, director general of the international health commission, and will visit several countries affected by the war.

OPERATIONS ARE DIFFICULT

German Official Report Comments on Flooding Valleys.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—The German army headquarters issued the following communication:

"The operations in Belgium have been rendered difficult owing to the foundations of the Yser and Ypres canals by the destruction of the sluices at Nieupoort. Our troops have advanced near Ypres. At least 600 prisoners were captured, also some British guns."

"The forces fighting to the westward of Lille also have progressed. A number of prisoners were taken near Vailly—about 1,500. In the region of Verdun and Toul there has been insignificant fighting."

"In the northeast the battle against the Russians still is indecisive."

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE.

Washington Woman Hears Emperor's Son Is Dead.

REPORT PROVES PERSISTENT

Letter to Washington Woman Says Crown Prince Is Dead.

Washington, Nov. 2.—A private letter received by a young woman in Washington from a lieutenant in the German army refers to the funeral of the crown prince.

The letter came to the attention of state department officials when its recipient asked the American government to undertake to transmit a reply for her to the lieutenant, to whom she is engaged to be married.

The request was denied, as have been many similar ones. The letter made only a casual reference to "the funeral of the crown prince," speaking of the big crowds which poured out to see it.

A week ago dispatches from London also reported the receipt there of private letters from Germany saying the crown prince had been buried.

SUBMARINE SINKS BRITISH CRUISER

Destroyers Rescue Greater Number of Crew.

Dover, England, Nov. 2.—It is ascertained that the British cruiser Hermes, sunk by a German submarine Saturday, was attacked twelve miles east by southeast of Goodwin Sands in the Straits of Dover at 8:15 a. m. A number of torpedo boat destroyers and other vessels hurried to the assistance of the wounded ship, which floated three-quarters of an hour after being struck and then heeled over and sank.

Meantime the destroyers rescued the greater number of the crew of 500 men, while other vessels searched the sea in an endeavor to locate the submarine.

Two men were killed by the explosion and nine were injured. About forty others are missing. The survivors were landed here.

The cruiser had been operating on coast patrol and with the blockading squadron since the outbreak of the war. It is of the type recently described by the admiralty as "valuable for operations but of small strategic value."

The Hermes was built in 1900.

BAD STORM ON NORTH SEA

Makes Life Uncomfortable for the Naval Outposts.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—The effects of the approaching winter on the campaign are evident. Heavy frosts are reported in East Prussia and the campaign in Poland has been waged for some time under most disagreeable conditions caused by rain and snow storms.

A severe storm is raging on the North sea, making life uncomfortable for the naval outposts because of the rolling and plunging of the torpedo boats and submarines. German life-savers Friday rescued the crews of three German commercial steamers wrecked off Helgoland.

SEVERAL BITTER STATE CONTESTS

Six Commonwealths Will Vote on Liquor Question.

KEEN INTEREST IN ELECTION

Voters Tuesday Will Have Their First Opportunity to Select One-third of the National Senate by Popular Vote—Entire House of Representatives Also Will Be Chosen.

New York, Nov. 2.—For the first time in the history of the United States the voters Tuesday will directly select one-third of the membership of the United States senate. In consequence added interest is felt in the outcome. In addition to the senators an entire new house of representatives is to be elected.

In addition to the national feature of the campaign there are many bitter state contests. In six states, Ohio, Colorado, California, Missouri, Washington and Oregon, the voters will pass upon the question of prohibition of the liquor traffic.

Women's suffrage is a distinct factor in seven states. In Ohio, Nebraska, Montana and Nevada the women feel certain that they will win. In North and South Dakota and in Missouri, the other states where constitutional amendments will be voted on, they frankly admit that they probably will be defeated.

Several Senate Vacancies.

The states which will elect United States senators are Kentucky, where a selection is to be made to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Bradley; Alabama, where the seat of the late Senator Joseph E. Johnston will be filled, and Georgia, where the successor of the late Senator A. O. Lacoc will be chosen, and the following, where senators for the full term of six years will be named: Oregon, Arkansas, Alabama, Florida, Oklahoma, Nevada, North Carolina, Indiana, South Carolina, Maryland, Arizona, Missouri, Colorado, the incumbents now being Democrats; Idaho, Connecticut, Vermont, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Washington, Pennsylvania, California, New York, Illinois, Utah and Wisconsin, where Republicans now hold the toga.

The states which will elect governors are: Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

DEATH ENDS VARIED CAREER

Lawyer, Senator, Reporter and Hobo Succumbs.

Minneapolis, Nov. 2.—Frank Benedict Manahan, statesman, man of letters and one-time hobo, died at the city hospital. Penitent and broken in health he spent the last days of his life at the Salvation Army industrial home. He was sixty-four years old.

Manahan once was a state senator in Iowa, practiced law in that state and in South Dakota, was a reporter on the New York Sun, stump speaker during Bryan's first presidential campaign, lumberjack in Northern Wisconsin, pilot on the Mississippi river, miner during the gold rush in the Black Hills, graduate of Notre Dame university and a dance and song specialist with a minstrel troupe. He was born in Prairie du Chien, Wis., July 8, 1850. For the past ten years he wandered over the United States.

HUNTERS SHOT BY FATHERS

Two Fatal Accidents in Vicinity of Libby, Mont., This Fall.

Libby, Mont., Nov. 2.—George Standford, twenty-three years old, of Polson, was shot and instantly killed while hunting with his father, brother and two friends. Young Standford and his father sighted a deer about the same time and the father fired, the bullet going high and entering the son's body under the third rib on the left side.

This is the second fatal accident of the hunting season in Lincoln county. Harold Listoe, the first victim, also being killed when a gun in his father's hands was discharged accidentally.

Makes Life Uncomfortable for the Naval Outposts.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—The effects of the approaching winter on the campaign are evident. Heavy frosts are reported in East Prussia and the campaign in Poland has been waged for some time under most disagreeable conditions caused by rain and snow storms.

A severe storm is raging on the North sea, making life uncomfortable for the naval outposts because of the rolling and plunging of the torpedo boats and submarines. German life-savers Friday rescued the crews of three German commercial steamers wrecked off Helgoland.

SEVERAL BITTER STATE CONTESTS

Six Commonwealths Will Vote on Liquor Question.

KEEN INTEREST IN ELECTION

Voters Tuesday Will Have Their First Opportunity to Select One-third of the National Senate by Popular Vote—Entire House of Representatives Also Will Be Chosen.

New York, Nov. 2.—For the first time in the history of the United States the voters Tuesday will directly select one-third of the membership of the United States senate. In consequence added interest is felt in the outcome. In addition to the senators an entire new house of representatives is to be elected.

In addition to the national feature of the campaign there are many bitter state contests. In six states, Ohio, Colorado, California, Missouri, Washington and Oregon, the voters will pass upon the question of prohibition of the liquor traffic.

Women's suffrage is a distinct factor in seven states. In Ohio, Nebraska, Montana and Nevada the women feel certain that they will win. In North and South Dakota and in Missouri, the other states where constitutional amendments will be voted on, they frankly admit that they probably will be defeated.

Several Senate Vacancies.

The states which will elect United States senators are Kentucky, where a selection is to be made to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Bradley; Alabama, where the seat of the late Senator Joseph F. Johnston will be filled, and Georgia, where the successor of the late Senator A. O. Bacon will be chosen, and the following, where senators for the full term of six years will be named: Oregon, Arkansas, Alabama, Florida, Oklahoma, Nevada, North Carolina, Indiana, South Carolina, Maryland, Arizona, Missouri, Colorado, the incumbents now being Democrats; Idaho, Connecticut, Vermont, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Washington, Pennsylvania, California, New York, Illinois, Utah and Wisconsin, where Republicans now hold the toga.

The states which will elect governors are: Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

DEATH ENDS VARIED CAREER

Lawyer, Senator, Reporter and Hobo Succumbs.

Minneapolis, Nov. 2.—Frank Benedict Manahan, statesman, man of letters and one-time hobo, died at the city hospital. Painless and broken in health he spent the last days of his life at the Salvation Army industrial home. He was sixty-four years old.

Manahan once was a state senator in Iowa, practiced law in that state and in South Dakota, was a reporter on the New York Sun, stump speaker during Bryan's first presidential campaign, lumberjack in Northern Wisconsin, pilot on the Mississippi river, miner during the gold rush in the Black Hills, graduate of Notre Dame university and a dance and song specialist with a minstrel troupe. He was born in Prairie du Chem, Wis., July 9, 1850. For the past ten years he wandered over the United States.

HUNTERS SHOT BY FATHERS

Two Fatal Accidents in Vicinity of Libby, Mont., This Fall.

Libby, Mont., Nov. 2.—George Standford, twenty-three years old, of Polson, was shot and instantly killed while hunting with his father, brother and two friends. Young Standford and his father sighted a deer about the same time and the father fired, the bullet going high and entering the son's body under the third rib on the left side.

This is the second fatal accident of the hunting season in Lincoln county. Harold Listoe, the first victim, also being killed when a gun in his father's hands was discharged accidentally.

Deputy Game Warden W. H. On-
stine in section 36 of Long Lake township came upon a party of six hunters shortly after he heard a number of shots. They claimed to have been shooting at bears and wolves. When one of the men saw the game warden he ran hurriedly to a beer keg in the grass, turned the faucet and washed his blood-stained hands in
the amber fluid.

Vandals on Saturday night cut up
and slashed the top of C. W. Bouck's automobile. It was Halloween night,
but the destruction of property as shown in this case exceeded any Halloween merriment. Mr. Bouck, who is a candidate for representative at large, and a party of friends were dining at the Spalding cafe and his automobile was left standing on Fifth street and it was while they were gone that the damage was done.

A straw vote taken at B. C. Mc-Namara's undertaking rooms showed five ballots cast unanimously for Mr.
McNamara. B. C. says the straws
generally show which way the wind blows. When campaigning in Cross-by Mr. McNamara and a friend had just emerged on Main street when a maddened horse dashed down Crosby's main thoroughfare and was in a fair way of running the entire distance of the street and into the lake.
A fair girl tugged at the lines and screamed, "Help," and "Whoa" and
Mr. McNamara heeded the cry of distress, grabbed the horse by the bridle, swung it back on its haunches and
saved the fair maiden.

total of 3215 head have been vaccinated and of this number 2647 have been vaccinated in Jackson county, 1700 being given the single treatment while 942 were given the double treatment. A total of 573 have been vaccinated in the adjoining counties of Rock, Cottonwood, Martin and Nobles, 150 of which were given the single and 423 the double treatment.

DELAYS ATTACK ON BRITAIN

Germany is Awaiting Outcome of Present Battle.

London, Nov. 2.—The Exchange Telegraph company's correspondent at
The Hague sends the following:

"Several trains filled with cannon
and submarines, bound from Germany
to the Belgian coast and destined for
the proposed attack on the English coast, have passed Liege but have been stopped at Bruges until further notice, the attack on England having been postponed until the present battle is decided."

Positively Masters Croup

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cuts the thick choking mucus, and clears away the phlegm. Opens up the air passages and stops the hoarse cough. The gasping, strangling fight for breath gives way to quiet breathing and peaceful sleep. Harold Berg, Mass. Mich., writes: "We give Foley's Honey and Tar to our children for croup and it always acts
quickly. H. P. Dunn, druggist.—

Dog Spooks.

The phantom dog specter was one of the hardest of old English superstitions. Almost every county had its black dog which haunted its lonely
spots and was the dread of every native. Most of them were regarded as devils, but some were held to be the spirits of human beings, transformed
thus as a punishment. Lady Howard,
a Devon notable of the days of James
I., for instance, was said to be compelled to haunt Okehampton in the form of a dog as a punishment for her cruelty to her daughter.

GENERAL CHAFFEE IS DEAD

Former Chief of Staff Succumbs to Typhoid Pneumonia.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 2.—Lieutenant General Adna R. Chaffee (retired), former chief of staff of the United States army, died here at his home. His body will be taken to Washington for interment in Arlington National cemetery.

General Chaffee had been suffering
from typhoid pneumonia for a month.

Mrs. Chaffee and her daughter, Mrs.
John Hastings Howard, wife of an army officer, were at the bedside when
the end came. Two other children, Mrs. George French Hamilton, wife of an army captain, and Adna R. Chaffee, Jr., a lieutenant in the army, are in the Philippines.

General Chaffee rose from the rank of private. He was wounded three times.

$5,000,000 SENT BY MAIL.

Government Adopts Parcel Post Method
of Shipping Gold.

Five million dollars in gold was sent by parcel post to the United States sub-treasury in Boston from the mint in Philadelphia. This was the first shipment of money by the government by way of the parcel post system. The bags of gold were received at the South station by Superintendent Johnson of the United States railway mail service and a crew of four clerks. It took them several hours to unload the gold on to a regulation postal screen
wagon, which carted it across the city to the Boston federal building.

It has been the custom of the government to ship its money by express, but
this experiment of sending it by parcel post has proved successful, and it is not improbable that the treasury department will use the mails from now
on for this purpose.

Deputy Game Warden W. H. On-
stine in section 36 of Long Lake township came upon a party of six hunters
shortly after he heard a number of shots. They claimed to have been shooting at bears and wolves. When one of the men saw the game warden he ran hurriedly to a beer keg in the grass, turned the faucet and
washed his blood-stained hands in
the amber fluid.

Vandals on Saturday night cut up
and slashed the top of C. W. Bouck's
automobile. It was Halloween night,
but the destruction of property as
shown in this case exceeded any Halloween merriment. Mr. Bouck, who is a candidate for representative at large, and a party of friends were dining at the Spalding cafe and his automobile was left standing on Fifth street and it was while they were
gone that the damage was done.

A straw vote taken at B. C. Mc-Namara's undertaking rooms showed
five ballots cast unanimously for Mr.
McNamara. B. C. says the straws
generally show which way the wind blows. When campaigning in Crook-by Mr. McNamara and a friend had just emerged on Main street when a maddened horse dashed down Crookby's main thoroughfare and was in a fair way of running the entire distance of the street and into the lake.
A fair girl tugged at the lines and screamed, "Help!" and "Whoa!" and
Mr. McNamara heeded the cry of distress, grabbed the horse by the bridle,
swung it back on its haunches and
saved the fair maiden.

The Lakeland Standard of October

Live Stock Sanitary board who has been stationed at Lakeland for the past four months enforcing the rules and regulations regarding the control of cholera, also vaccinating, leaves today for Brainerd, having completed his work here. During the time a total of 3215 head have been vaccinated and of this number 2612 have been vaccinated in Jackson county, 1709 being given the single treatment while 942 were given the double treatment. A total of 573 have been vaccinated in the adjoining
counties of Rock, Cottonwood, Martin and Nobles, 150 of which were given the single and 423 the double
treatment.

DELAYS ATTACK ON BRITAIN

Germany is Awaiting Outcome of Present Battle.

London, Nov. 2.—The Exchange Telegraph company's correspondent at
The Hague sends the following.

"Several trains filled with cannon
and submarines, bound from Germany
to the Belgian coast and destined for
the proposed attack on the English
coast, have passed Liege but have been stopped at Bruges until further notice, the attack on England having
been postponed until the present battle is decided."

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound
cuts the thick choking mucus, and

breathing and peaceful sleep. Harold Berg, Mass. Mich., writes: "We

quickly." H. P. Dunn, druggist.—

Dog Spooks.

The phantom dog specter was one of
the hardest of old English superstitions. Almost every county had its
black dog which haunted its lonely
spots and was the dread of every native. Most of them were regarded as devils, but some were held to be the
spirits of human beings, transformed
thus as a punishment. Lady Howard,
a Devon notable of the days of James
I., for instance, was said to be compelled to haunt Okehampton in the form of a dog as a punishment for her
cruelty to her daughter.

GENERAL CHAFFEE IS DEAD

Former Chief of Staff Succumbs to Typhoid Pneumonia.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 2.—Lieutenant General Adna R. Chaffee (retired), former chief of staff of the United States army, died here at his home. His body will be taken to Washington for interment in Arlington National cemetery.

General Chaffee had been suffering
from typhoid pneumonia for a month.
Mrs. Chaffee and her daughter, Mrs.
John Hastings Howard, wife of an army officer, were at the bedside when
the end came. Two other children,
Mrs. George French Hamilton, wife of
an army captain, and Adna R. Chaffee, Jr., a lieutenant in the army, are
in the Philippines.

General Chaffee rose from the rank
of private. He was wounded three times.

$5,000,000 SENT BY MAIL.

Government Adopts Parcel Post Method
of Shipping Gold.

Five million dollars in gold was sent
by parcel post to the United States sub-
treasury in Boston from the mint in Philadelphia. This was the first shipment of money by the government by way of the parcel post system. The
bags of gold were received at the South station by Superintendent Johnson of the United States railway mail
service and a crew of four clerks. It took them several hours to unload the
gold on to a regulation postal screen
wagon, which carried it across the city
to the Boston federal building.

It has been the custom of the government to ship its money by express, but
this experiment of sending it by parcel
post has proved successful, and it is
not improbable that the treasury department will use the mails from now
on for this purpose.

BRAINERD MUSICAL CLUB MEETING

Soloists on Saturday Afternoon Were Miss Enockson, Miss Skauge and Miss Wood

A PLEASANT AFTERNOON SPENT

Hostesses Entertaining Were Mrs. G. A. Beale and Mrs. O. W. Merwin at Elks Hall

The meeting of the Brainerd Musical club on Saturday was of somewhat special interest to the members, because two of its manifold purposes seemed to have been in a measure, achieved.

First, in her announcements regarding the proposed constitutional amendments, to be submitted to popular vote on Tuesday, the president, Mrs. Broady, pointed the way by which each club member might help to accomplish a permanent public good to the state. Second, the hostesses for the day, Mrs. G. A. Beale and Mrs. O. W. Merwin accomplished one of the original purposes of the club, by presenting on their very excellent program, a trio of young musicians, whose pronounced native talents are as yet in the interesting process of development, and who need the helpful experience of public appearance in rounding out their attainments.

In opening the meeting Mrs. Broady announced the unanimous endorsement of the federated women's clubs of the state on the proposed amendment No. 3, and amendment No. 9. The committee on forestry of the state federation has devised a plan whereby every woman may help to emphasize the importance of voting on these amendments to the voters of the community. To neglect to vote, is equivalent to voting against them. Proposed amendment No. 3 provides that a certain portion of the appropriated forestry fund be devoted to devices for the prevention of and protection from forest fires on all state lands. Such devices as ditches and cleared spaces are invaluable in checking the spreading of flames, and the passing of this measure will go far toward preventing loss of property to the state and to the homesteaders.

Amendment No. 9 provides for the reforestation of all state lands, such as cutover lands and swamps, which are not available for agricultural purposes. The passage of this measure means the replacing and perpetuation of our forests. Each member was given a list of voters names, and urged to communicate with them by telephone.

THOUGH YOU ESCAPE WITH YOUR LIFE

ophone and remind him of the importance of voting upon them.

The musical program consisted of three groups of songs by Miss Grace Enockson of Duluth, a piano solo by Miss Mildred Skauge and a violin solo by Miss Mildred Wood.

Miss Enockson, one of the newer members of the Duluth Musical club and a pupil of John Konecny of that city, has a voice of rare natural beauty, rich and musical, which she uses with an intelligence that promises a triumphant future for her.

The piano accompaniments of Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone were sympathetic and accurate in all the songs.

The violin solo, Schubert's beautiful "Serenade," by Miss Mildred Wood with Miss Mildred Skauge at the piano, was very beautifully played, showing Miss Wood to be a sympathetic and earnest student of that sensitive instrument, the violin.

Miss Mildred Skauge, but recently returned from a year's work at Macalaster school of music in St. Paul, played "La Truite" by Schuman Heller, with a delicacy and accuracy of touch that won instant admiration from the audience.

Her playing showed a sincerity of feeling and an efficiency of technique which give her a creditable standing among amateur pianists.

Young People's Alliance

The Y. P. A. of the Northeast Evangelical church held a social gathering at the home of Miss Beatrice Osborn Friday evening. The house was very prettily decorated for the occasion. The evening was spent in music and games. A pleasing program was also rendered by members of the Alliance after which a dainty luncheon was served. All reported having a fine time.

Girls' Booster Club

The Girls' Booster club had a Halloween party at the high school on Friday evening and the auditorium was appropriately decorated. Miss Dorr and Miss Mueller were chaperones. Sixty couples of girls were present. A luncheon was served.

TRAVEL CLASS MEETING

AMERICAN FASHION NEWS

For the Women of the World—Tendency of the Fashion World Seems To be Toward 1830 Modes

The tendency in the fashion world seems to be toward the 1830 modes. This is particularly noticeable in the skirts. Ruffled and flounced skirts are being worn for afternoon and evening dresses, the bottom ruffle wired with a light, thin wire, so that the skirt swings gracefully with the movements of the wearer. This mode is so very effective in the cotton fabrics that undoubtedly it will be developed further as the dresses for the southern resorts are needed.

There is also more fullness in the skirts to be worn on the streets. This is achieved in various ways. Premet and Cheruit showed the full short skirt, without the underskirt. Premet points this skirt in front and in back, allowing it to fall shorter at the sides. Callot shows a long, flaring tunic, but adds a tight underskirt. On some of her street suits the tunic is plaited, and the underskirt banded in fur.

Above the knee the fashionable figure is flat, broad and fan-shaped. This is accented by the long, loose, straight panels.

The long coat is being replaced by the exclusive trade by the short, monkey jacket with flaring basque effect. This flare will become more pronounced as the season advances and is even now the feature of the medium length coats.

Drecol shows an 1870 model with tight, fitted bodice of black velvet and long, gathered polonaise back and full skirt.

The new line at the neck is straight across from shoulder to shoulder. And the new collars are high in the back and at the sides and open in the front. When not of this type they are high and flaring in the back.

Paquin is showing the leg o' mutton sleeve. Sleeves for street and afternoon dresses are long, reaching to the wrist. For the evening they are eliminated, shoulder straps serving to hold on the corsage, or if sleeves are desired they are of tulle, reaching well over the hand.

Broadcloth, velvet, and the fur fabric cloths are being worn on the street. Faille, gabardine, cloth, combinations of satin and cloth and vigogne (a kind of serge) are being used for dresses. For the evening the metal cloths, brocades, failles and taffetas with a silvery tinge, and satin are the most popular.—H. W. Gossard Co.

Entertain at Dinner

Mrs. O. W. Merwin and Mrs. G. A. Beale entertained at a seven o'clock dinner party Saturday evening at the home of the former on North Third street in honor of those who assisted in the program at the Musical club.

Covers were laid for twelve in the dining room which was beautifully decorated in the spirit of Halloween with table cover, napkins, dollies and salad dishes to match, the center piece being pink carnations.

Halloween Party

Miss Otilda Hohensee entertained a number of young people at her home on Halloween evening. The room was decorated for the occasion. The evening was spent in playing games. A dainty luncheon was served. A jolly time was had by all.

SOLDIER CONFESSES CRIME

Admits Dynamiting Home, Killing Wife and Four Children.

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—Seated on a rough bench in the guardhouse at Jefferson barracks Scott Stone, a soldier, recited to the police the story of one of the most hideous crimes in the history of the middle west.

For the love of a woman, Lucille, whose last name he did not even know, Stone dynamited his home at Tolono, Ill., on the night of Sept. 27, he confessed, setting fire to the dwelling and burning to death his wife and four little children. While the charred, mangled bodies still lay in the smoking ruins, he hurried to Lucille and remarked boastfully: "Now, I've got the divorce I wanted."

A Great War "Scoop."

Days have changed for the war correspondent since Archibald Forbes was praised in the house of lords by Lord Salisbury and received by Queen Victoria at Buckingham palace in recognition of his exploits as a news gatherer during the Russo-Turkish war of 1877. Forbes' greatest exploit was his ride from Shipka pass to the nearest telegraph station at Bukharest and his reception en route by the czar, to whom he was the first to communicate news of the Russian victory, the former trooper of the Royals having outdistanced not only all rival correspondents, but the official messengers as well.—London Mail.

The musical program consisted of three groups of songs by Miss Grace Enockson of Duluth, a piano solo by Miss Mildred Skauge and a violin solo by Miss Mildred Wood.

Miss Enockson, one of the newer members of the Duluth Musical club and a pupil of John Konecny of that city, has a voice of rare natural beauty, rich and musical, which she uses with an intelligence that promises a triumphant future for her.

The piano accompaniments of Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone were sympathetic and accurate in all the songs.

The violin solo, Schubert's beautiful "Serenade," by Miss Mildred Wood with Miss Mildred Skauge at the piano, was very beautifully played, showing Miss Wood to be a sympathetic and earnest student of that sensitive instrument, the violin.

Miss Mildred Skauge, but recently returned from a year's work at Macalester school of music in St. Paul, played "La Truite" by Schuman Heller, with a delicacy and accuracy of touch that won instant admiration from the audience.

Her playing showed a sincerity of feeling and an efficiency of technique which give her a creditable standing among amateur pianists.

Young People's Alliance

The Y. P. A. of the Northeast Evangelical church held a social gathering at the home of Miss Beatrice Osborn Friday evening. The house was very prettily decorated for the occasion. The evening was spent in music and games. A pleasing program was also rendered by members of the Alliance after which a dainty luncheon was served. All reported having a fine time.

Girls' Booster Club

The Girls' Booster club had a Halloween party at the high school on Friday evening and the auditorium was appropriately decorated. Miss Dorr and Miss Mueller were chaperones. Sixty couples of girls were present. A luncheon was served.

For the Women of the World—Tendency of the Fashion World Seems To be Toward 1830 Modes

The tendency in the fashion world seems to be toward the 1830 modes. This is particularly noticeable in the skirts. Ruffled and flounced skirts are being worn for afternoon and evening dresses, the bottom ruffle wired with a light, thin wire, so that the skirt swings gracefully with the movements of the wearer. This mode is so very effective in the cotton fabrics that undoubtedly it will be developed further as the dresses for the southern resorts are needed.

There is also more fullness in the skirts to be worn on the streets. This is achieved in various ways. Premet and Cheruit showed the full short skirt, without the underskirt. Premet points this skirt in front and in back, allowing it to fall shorter at the sides. Callot shows a long, flaring tunic, but adds a tight underskirt. On some of her street suits the tunic is plaited, and the underskirt banded in fur.

Above the knee the fashionable figure is flat, broad and fan-shaped. This is accented by the long, loose, straight panels.

The long coat is being replaced by the exclusive trade by the short, monkey jacket with flaring basque effect. This flare will become more pronounced as the season advances and is even now the feature of the medium length coats.

Drecol shows an 1870 model with tight, fitted bodice of black velvet and long, gathered polonaise back and full skirt.

The new line at the neck is straight across from shoulder to shoulder. And the new collars are high in the back and at the sides and open in the front. When not of this type they are high and flaring in the back.

Paquin is showing the leg o' mutton sleeve. Sleeves for street and afternoon dresses are long, reaching to the wrist. For the evening they are eliminated, shoulder straps serving to hold on the corsage, or if sleeves are desired they are of tulle, reaching well over the hand.

Broadcloth, velvet, and the fur fabric cloths are being worn on the street. Faille, gabardine, cloth, combinations of satin and cloth and visogno (a kind of serge) are being used for dresses. For the evening the metal cloths, brocades, failles and taffetas with a silvery tinge, and satin are the most popular.—H. W. Gossard Co.

Entertain at Dinner

Mrs. O. W. Merwin and Mrs. G. A. Beale entertained at a seven o'clock dinner party Saturday evening at the home of the former on North Third street in honor of those who assisted in the program at the Musical club.

Covers were laid for twelve in the dining room which was beautifully decorated in the spirit of Halloween with table cover, napkins, dillies and salad dishes to match, the center piece being pink carnations.

Halloween Party

Miss Otilda Hohensee entertained a number of young people at her home on Halloween evening. The room was decorated for the occasion. The evening was spent in playing games. A dainty luncheon was served. A jolly time was had by all.

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—Seated on a rough bench in the guardhouse at Jefferson barracks Scott Stone, a soldier, recited to the police the story of one of the most hideous crimes in the history of the middle west.

For the love of a woman, Lucille, whose last name he did not even know, Stone dynamited his home at Tolono, Ill., on the night of Sept. 27, he confessed, setting fire to the dwelling and burning to death his wife and four little children. While the charred, mangled bodies still lay in the smoking ruins, he hurried to Lucille and remarked boastfully: "Now, I've got the divorce I wanted."

Days have changed for the war correspondent since Archibald Forbes was praised in the house of lords by Lord Salisbury and received by Queen Victoria at Buckingham palace in recognition of his exploits as a news gatherer during the Russo-Turkish war of 1877. ## VOTE FOR THE BONDS

The voters of Brainerd and Crow Wing county will be given a chance to say whether in their opinion bonds shall be issued for the purpose of financing the proposition of building a new court house and county jail at the election tomorrow. At the bottom of the county, or blue, ballot will be found the following:

"Bond Ballot: Shall the bonds of the county of Crow Wing be issued in the aggregate amount of $150,000 bearing interest at a rate not to exceed five per centum per annum, the proceeds thereof to be used for the purpose of erecting and furnishing of a County Court House, and to be numbered and to mature as set forth in the resolution now on file in the office of the County Auditor of said Crow Wing County?"

Yes.....
No.....

The Dispatch believes that it would be a wise move to provide for this improvement at the present time. The only objection that can be raised to the proposition is that of additional taxes, but this question is solved by the issuance of long time refunding bonds which will distribute the cost among a greater number of taxpayers, and at maturity the assessed valuation of the county will be greatly in excess of what it is today, and this with the revenue to be derived from the taxes paid by mining properties in Crow Wing county will make the levy to each individual but a trifle compared to the benefit derived.

The people of Brainerd, especially, should give this proposition a big majority.

A vote for the court house bonds is a vote for progress and a boost for Brainerd without any perceptible increase in taxation.

Vote YES.

VOTE FOR LEE

Tomorrow is election day and the voters of the state of Minnesota will be called upon to cast their ballot for a candidate for governor to succeed A. O. Eberhart. It has probably been one of the warmest, as well as the shortest campaigns in many years but during the time it has been waged the people have been educated as to the two principal candidates who come before them for their votes, and what they stand for. The prediction is freely made that Wm. E. Lee will be elected over W. S. Hammond, the only question being the plurality, some placing it as high as 10,000, but that is considered an outside figure by the more conservative of the republicans, from 10,000 to 20,000 being the figures set by those who have gone over the situation thoroughly. The former vote is counted in the Lee column to a great extent, and only the condition of the weather will prevent a heavy vote for him in the farming communities of the state. The republican party is practically united and the disaffection so much talked of by the democrats in the early part of the campaign has come to naught. The two big cities of the state has been the battle ground of the two leading candidates, and Hennepin county is claimed for Lee, while Ramsey will undoubtedly give the democratic candidate a lead.

The wind up of the campaign came on Saturday night in a monster demonstration at Minneapolis, at which time the auditorium was taxed and over 2,000 stood in ovation to Wm. E. Lee. Senator Nelson addressed the republican meeting and urged the voters to elect Wm. E. Lee as the next governor.

The campaign is over, the voters have made up their minds, and unless all signs fail the verdict at the polls tomorrow will be a plurality for the republican candidate, Wm. E. Lee.

COUNTING THE VOTES

Election Day on Tuesday, November 3, Start Counting State Ticket First—

Election day is on Tuesday, November 3, and the hours in Brainerd are from 6 in the morning to 9 in the evening. Throughout the country the polls will be open from 9 in the morning to 9 in the evening.

The state ticket is to be counted first and it is hoped all precincts will start there first. In the past some precincts have started at the constable end of the ticket and worked from the bottom to the top, thus making Crow Wing county one of the slowest to yield any returns to the outside world.

The polling places in Brainerd are as follows:

First ward, 510 Laurel street, Gardner block.

Second ward, Congdon building on Main street.

Third ward, hose house.

Fourth ward, hose house.

Fifth ward, Katz building, South Seventh street.

Brainerd, Minn., November 2nd 1914.
To the Voters of the City of Brainerd:
My Dear Friends:

Perhaps some of you think it strange that I have not personally approached you as to my candidacy for re-election to the office of Probate Judge;

I would like your support and good will if you think that I am competent and trustworthy.

I want to assure you that any friendly interest you may take in my re-election will be much appreciated.

I have not taken this matter up with you personally, because I feel that my thirty-two years as a resident among you will make you familiar with all of my good and bad habits, and that you will be the best judge whether or not I have given my best attention to the duties of the office during my incumbency.

In fact, I feel that you are competent to form your own opinion, without listening to my troubles.

I thank you very kindly for past favors, and if elected I can only promise you to do my best in the future, as I have tried to do in the past.

Yours very respectfully,

J. T. SANBORN,

Judge of Probate,

Ten Taken for Loan Fraud

Seattle Grand Jury Names Men Connected with National Mercantile Company, Ltd., Vancouver
Seattle, Wash., Oct. 29.—George E. Stillings, president of the National Mercantile company, Ltd., of Vancouver, B. C., and nine other defendants are named in two indictments returned by the Federal grand jury charging the defendants with conducting a lottery, obtaining money under false pretenses and using the mails to defraud. The men indicted with Stillings were Charles Merrill, Seattle agent of the company; Orlando K. Fitzsimmons of Vancouver, B. C.; R. C. Oeder, Tacoma; John Doe Fernsten, Aberdeen, Wash.; A. J. Baker, Portland, Ore.; C. P. Nellist, Vancouver, B. C.; John H. Sears, St. P. Sage and C. O. Smith.

The government alleges the men obtained large sums of money by means of a fraudulent loan scheme.

The Women of Belgium.

No one can travel in Belgium without being struck by the extraordinary activity and prominence of the women. Over the doors of shops of all descriptions the name of the owner or owners is frequently followed by "Sisters" or "Widow." You find them proprietors of hotels and restaurants. They are often custodians of the churches. They are employed to tow the boats along the canal banks. They cut up the meat in the butchers' shops, and they are even to be noticed shoeing horses at the forge.—Liverpool Mercury.

The Egyptian Lotus.

The lotus figures to a very great extent in ancient Egyptian sculpture, though the flower is often crude and difficult to make out. The fruit of the Egyptian lotus was forbidden as food to disciples of Pythagoras. The lotus was dedicated to the goddess of fecundity, Isis, and buds are said to have been found in the tombs of ancient Egyptian kings. Egyptologists have decided that the lotus of Egypt was the common white water lily of the Nile and not the true sacred nelmbo of the far east.

COTTON RELIEF IN NEXT CONGRESS

Southerners Promise to Force Some Action at That Time.

SCHEMES IMPRACTICABLE

One Reason Why Relief Was Not Granted Is That Northern Men Could See No Good Method—Opposition of White House Doomed Amendment From the Start.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—When congress gets ready for business again it will be interesting to note whether the fight for the cotton producers will be renewed or whether other business will be taken up. Quite a number of southern men have insisted that there was more politics than anything else in the cotton demonstration.

"Oh, they'll adjourn as soon as election is over," was the remark of Leader Underwood, speaking of the several assertions by the southerners that there would be no adjournment of the session.

"It is a shame to play politics," said Congressman Garrett of Tennessee, "with a subject causing so much distress to the people. A serious condition in the south—and it is serious enough—should not be made the subject of a game which we all know is political to a great extent."

Could See No Means of Relief.

One difficulty which the cotton men faced was the failure of northern men to see any method of relief. They could not accept or support the measures which were proposed, either for inflating the currency or to provide that the government should buy the cotton. But there were men in the south who were insisting that those who represented the cotton states in congress should come to the front and secure the relief which was demanded.

One reason for the absolute failure of efforts for relief was the fact the southern men were not united. Many told their fellow congressmen that the propositions were impracticable.

Advocated State Banknotes.

It has been nearly twenty years since there was serious argument in favor of repealing the tax on state banknotes in order to allow such banks to issue currency. The 10 per cent tax is prohibitive, as it was intended to be. Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia made an earnest plea to have this tax repealed in order to allow southern banks to issue money to meet the cotton situation. The last time that any serious argument was made along the same lines was when the panic of 1893 created a great demand for currency. At that time the sub-treasury plan of the Populist party was also pushed forward.

Tardy Acknowledgment.

When the cotton amendment was before the senate Borah of Idaho several times asserted that it was a useless procedure, because it was an open secret that the president would veto the revenue bill if that amendment became a part of it. Among the senators who vigorously asserted that such could not be the case was Vardaman of Mississippi.

The last day congress did any business Vardaman told his fellow southerners that it was useless to try to force any action contemplated by them, for the time had passed. "You cannot fool the people," he said. "They understand the situation here. You cannot do anything along the line of that proposed amendment. It is too late, and you know it. It has the opposition of the White House and the treasury, and every Democrat here knows that is sufficient to defeat the measure."

And so it proved that Borah was right all the time.

Townsend's Plans.

"You fellows can stay here if you want to," said Congressman Townsend of New Jersey the day after the revenue bill was out of the way, "but I am going to leave here at 3 o'clock. At 8 I will be in a torch light parade, and at 9 I will be telling my constituents why they should re-elect me to congress. I'll be back here next session."

In an Ugly Mood.

I have seldom seen the members of the house in such an ugly mood as they were the day after the revenue bill passed and a filibuster prevented an adjournment. Those who wanted to adjourn were particularly angry with the southern men who blocked the program, while the southern men were ugly because they had been accused of playing politics, of "four flushing" and such like actions, which is not considered a part of statesmanship. Friendships of many years were broken during those few hours. Probably one or two political fortunes were marred by what happened and what was said in private conversation.

What Is News?

Who can answer the question about news? There have been symposiums about it, but no one can tell. Recently a paragraph was telegraphed to New York telling about Jim Ham Lewis' finger being in a bandage, the result of a jam in a door. But it was considered news and telegraphed back to a Washington paper. News is just what an editor thinks it is.

ELECTION RETURNS

County and State to be Received at Chamber of Commerce on Election Night

Election returns from the county and state are to be received by special wire tomorrow evening at the club rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. Secretary Hansing has arranged for bulletins which will be posted on a large blackboard giving the returns as received by precincts and members and their friends are invited to make the club rooms their headquarters for the evening. It is anticipated that returns will not start coming in before 9:30 or 10 o'clock so that those desiring may attend the performance at the different theatres.

It is predicted that the Red Cross benefit which closed Saturday night will net a sum of money far in excess of the expectations of those having arrangements in charge. As soon as all members of the committees have reported and settlement made with the several theatres a statement will be published showing the net amount collected which will be forwarded to F. M. Prince, president of the First National Bank, Minneapolis, who has been appointed treasurer of Red Cross funds for the state of Minnesota.

He Believes the County Should be All Wet or All Dry

I want to say to the voters of Crow Wing county, that I am in favor of County Option. I believe that the county should be all wet or all dry. I believe that the people should have the right to say whether it shall be all wet or all dry. If elected to the legislature I shall vote for a bill giving you, the people, the right to vote on this question. For this the saloons of Brainerd are fighting me, and are bound to defeat me—well and good. They may succeed and they may not. It is up to you men who believe as I do, whether they do defeat me. It is surprising me to find a certain supposed leader in the fight for county option supporting my opponent, when he knows that he, my opponent, will not vote for this measure. This is how I stand, my friends, on this question and I don't want any misunderstanding about it.

Yours,

W. A. FLEMING.

Handling Coins.

Coin handling machines have reached such a degree of perfection that a machine will take a bucketful of coins of all denominations, sort them out, pick out all the mutilated pieces and reject them, do all the others up in neat bundles of standard sizes—such as twenty-five pennies in a bundle—count them, add them all up together, and hand out a slip of paper on which is printed the total sum in dollars and cents. An electric motor turns the crank that does the work.

Wallack on the Ballet.

The late Lester Wallack once told a story of his still more famous father, James W., that as either an actor or a manager he could never tolerate the ballet.

One day there came to him a friend, a man about town, who said, "My dear Wallack, it is very curious that you do not see the beauties of imagination shown by the poses of the ballet." Going on in this strain, the visitor at last wore out the patience of the actor-manager, who replied:

"Look here, it is bad enough to stand these absurdities in an opera; but though I can comprehend people singing their joys, I am hanged if I can their dancing their griefs."

Washington's Farewell Address.

Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence, I conjure you to believe me, fellow citizens, the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake, since history and experience prove that foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of republican government. Europe has a set of primary interests which to us have none or a remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves by artificial ties in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics or the ordinary combinations and collusions of her friendships or enmities.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it incurable, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. COUNTY ATTORNEY

CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

To the Voters of Crow Wing county:

In asking for re-election as County Attorney, I desire to state that I stand squarely upon my record, and ask that you compare my record as a public officer with that of my opponent.

I was busy in District Court from the first of May until after the Primary Election, and therefore could not see you, so that the votes I received at the Election, when nominated, were not because of personal solicitation or campaign. This I greatly appreciated and thank you for your support and for the confidence you placed in me.

I believe that my two years experience as county attorney makes me better qualified to perform the duties of the office if re-elected. In actively prosecuting blind-piggers, disorderly houses, gamblers and other violators of the law as my court record will show, I have enforced the law and performed my duty, and in doing so, may have incurred the displeasure of some. This has taken much work and effort, but I believe that it has been appreciated by those who believe in Clean Government and enforcement of the law for which I stand.

I feel that my stand for Clean, Decent Government, Enforcement of the Law, Justice to all, and Special Privileges to None will be Endorsed at the General Election November Third, because I have Confidence in the Common Citizens of Crow Wing County and Those Citizens who have the County's Future Development and Prosperity at Heart.

Very sincerely yours,

COUNTING THE VOTES

Election day is on Tuesday, November 3, and the hours in Brainerd are from 6 in the morning to 9 in the evening. Throughout the country the polls will be open from 9 in the morning to 9 in the evening.

The state ticket is to be counted first and it is hoped all precincts will start there first. In the past some precincts have started at the convenient end of the ticket and worked from the bottom to the top, thus making Crow Wing county one of the slowest to yield any returns to the outside world.

The polling places in Brainerd are as follows:

First ward, 510 Laurel street, Gardner block.
Second ward, Congdon building on Main street.
Third ward, hose house.
Fourth ward, hose house.
Fifth ward, Katz building, South Seventh street.

Brainerd, Minn., November 2nd 1914. To the Voters of the City of Brainerd: My Dear Friends:

Perhaps some of you think it strange that I have not personally approached you as to my candidacy for re-election to the office of Probate Judge;

I would like your support and good will if you think that I am competent and trustworthy.

I want to assure you that any friendly interest you may take in my re-election will be much appreciated.

I have not taken this matter up with you personally, because I feel that my thirty-two years as a resident among you will make you familiar with all of my good and bad habits, and that you will be the best judge whether or not I have given my best attention to the duties of the office during my incumbency.

In fact, I feel that you are competent to form your own opinion, without listening to my troubles.

I thank you very kindly for past favors, and if elected I can only promise you to do my best in the future, as I have tried to do in the past.

Yours very respectfully,

Ten Taken for Loan Fraud

Seattle Grand Jury Names Men Connected with National Mercantile Company, Ltd., Vancouver
Seattle, Wash., Oct. 29.—George E. Stillings, president of the National Mercantile company, Ltd., of Vancouver, B. C., and nine other defendants are named in two indictments returned by the Federal grand jury charging the defendants with conducting a lottery, obtaining money under false pretenses and using the mails to defraud. The men indicted with Stillings were Charles Merrill, Seattle agent of the company; Orlando K. Fitzsimmons of Vancouver, B. C.; R. C. Oeder, Tacoma; John Doe Fernon, Aberdeen, Wash.; A. J. Baker, Portland, Ore.; C. P. Nellist, Vancouver, B. C.; John H. Sears, St. P. Sage and C. O. Smith.

The government alleges the men obtained large sums of money by means of a fraudulent loan scheme.

The Women of Belgium.

No one can travel in Belgium without being struck by the extraordinary activity and prominence of the women. Over the doors of shops of all descriptions the name of the owner or owners is frequently followed by "Sisters" or "Widow." You find them proprietors of hotels and restaurants. They are often custodians of the churches. They are employed to tow the boats along the canal banks. They cut up the meat in the butchers' shops, and they are even to be noticed shoeing horses at the forge.—Liverpool Mercury.

The Egyptian Lotus.

The lotus figures to a very great extent in ancient Egyptian sculpture, though the flower is often crude and difficult to make out. The fruit of the Egyptian lotus was forbidden as food to disciples of Pythagoras. The lotus was dedicated to the goddess of fecundity, Isis, and buds are said to have been found in the tombs of ancient Egyptian kings. Egyptologists have decided that the lotus of Egypt was the common white water lily of the Nile and not the true sacred nelumbo of the far east.

COTTON RELIEF IN NEXT CONGRESS

Southerners Promise to Force Some Action at That Time.

SCHEMES IMPRACTICABLE

One Reason Why Relief Was Not Granted Is That Northern Men Could See No Good Method—Opposition of White House Doomed Amendment From the Start.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—When congress gets ready for business again it will be interesting to note whether the fight for the cotton producers will be renewed or whether other business will be taken up. Quite a number of southern men have insisted that there was more politics than anything else in the cotton demonstration.

"Oh, they'll adjourn as soon as election is over," was the remark of Leader Underwood, speaking of the several assertions by the southerners that there would be no adjournment of the session.

"It is a shame to play politics," said Congressman Garrett of Tennessee, "with a subject causing so much distress to the people. A serious condition in the south—and it is serious enough—should not be made the subject of a game which we all know is political to a great extent."

Could See No Means of Relief.

One difficulty which the cotton men faced was the failure of northern men to see any method of relief. They could not accept or support the measures which were proposed, either for inflating the currency or to provide that the government should buy the cotton. But there were men in the south who were insisting that those who represented the cotton states in congress should come to the front and secure the relief which was demanded.

One reason for the absolute failure of efforts for relief was the fact the southern men were not united. Many told their fellow congressmen that the propositions were impracticable.

Advocated State Banknotes.

It has been nearly twenty years since there was serious argument in favor of repealing the tax on state banknotes in order to allow such banks to issue currency. The 10 per cent tax is prohibitive, as it was intended to be. Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia made an earnest plea to have this tax repealed in order to allow southern banks to issue money to meet the cotton situation. The last time that any serious argument was made along the same lines was when the panic of 1893 created a great demand for currency. At that time the sub-treasury plan of the Populist party was also pushed forward.

Tardy Acknowledgment.

When the cotton amendment was before the senate Borah of Idaho several times asserted that it was a useless procedure, because it was an open secret that the president would veto the revenue bill if that amendment became a part of it. Among the senators who vigorously asserted that such could not be the case was Vandaman of Mississippi.

The last day congress did any business Vandaman told his fellow southerners that it was useless to try to force any action contemplated by them, for the time had passed. "You cannot fool the people," he said. "They understand the situation here. You cannot do anything along the line of that proposed amendment. It is too late, and you know it. It has the opposition of the White House and the treasury, and every Democrat here knows that is sufficient to defeat the measure."

And so it proved that Borah was right all the time.

Townsend's Plans.

"You fellows can stay here if you want to," said Congressman Townsend of New Jersey the day after the revenue bill was out of the way, "but I am going to leave here at 3 o'clock. At 8 I will be in a torch light parade, and at 9 I will be telling my constituents why they should re-elect me to congress. I'll be back here next session."

In an Ugly Mood.

I have seldom seen the members of the house in such an ugly mood as they were the day after the revenue bill passed and a filibuster prevented an adjournment. Those who wanted to adjourn were particularly angry with the southern men who blocked the program, while the southern men were ugly because they had been accused of playing politics, of "four flushing" and such like actions, which is not considered a part of statesmanship. Friendships of many years were broken during those few hours. Probably one or two political fortunes were marred by what happened and what was said in private conversation.

What is News?

Who can answer the question about news? There have been symposiums about it, but no one can tell. Recently a paragraph was telegraphed to New York telling about Jim Ham Lewis' finger being in a bandage, the result of a jam in a door. But it was considered news and telegraphed back to a Washington paper. News is just what an editor thinks it is.

ELECTION RETURNS

County and State to be Received at Chamber of Commerce on Election Night

Election returns from the county and state are to be received by special wire tomorrow evening at the club rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. Secretary Hansing has arranged for bulletins which will be posted on a large blackboard giving the returns as received by precincts and members and their friends are invited to make the club rooms their headquarters for the evening. It is anticipated that returns will not start coming in before 9:30 or 10 o'clock so that those desiring may attend the performance at the different theatres.

It is predicted that the Red Cross benefit which closed Saturday night will net a sum of money far in excess of the expectations of those having arrangements in charge. As soon as all members of the committees have reported and settlement made with the several theatres a statement will be published showing the net amount collected which will be forwarded to F. M. Prince, president of the First National Bank, Minneapolis, who has been appointed treasurer of Red Cross funds for the state of Minnesota.

To the Voters of Crow Wing Co. He Believes the County Should be All Wet or All Dry

I want to say to the voters of Crow Wing county, that I am in favor of County Option. I believe that the county should be all wet or all dry. I believe that the people should have the right to say whether it shall be all wet or all dry. If elected to the legislature I shall vote for a bill giving you, the people, the right to vote on this question. For this the saloons of Brainerd are fighting me, and are bound to defeat me—well and good. They may succeed and they may not. It is up to you men who believe as I do, whether they do defeat me. It is surprising me to find a certain supposed leader in the fight for county option supporting my opponent, when he knows that he, my opponent, will not vote for this measure. This is how I stand, my friends, on this question and I don't want any misunderstanding about it.

Yours,

W. A. FLEMING.

Handling Coins.

Coin handling machines have reached such a degree of perfection that a machine will take a bucketful of coins of all denominations, sort them out, pick out all the mutilated pieces and reject them, do all the others up in neat bundles of standard sizes—such as twenty-five pennies in a bundle—count them, add them all up together, and hand out a slip of paper on which is printed the total sum in dollars and cents. An electric motor turns the crank that does the work.

Wallack on the Ballet.

The late Lester Wallack once told a story of his still more famous father, James W. that as either an actor or a manager he could never tolerate the ballet.

One day there came to him a friend, a man about town, who said, "My dear Wallack, it is very curious that you do not see the beauties of imagination shown by the poses of the ballet." Going on in this strain, the visitor at last wore out the patience of the actor-manager, who replied:

"Look here, it is bad enough to stand these absurdities in an opera; but though I can comprehend people singing their joys, I am hanged if I can their dancing their griefs."

Washington's Farewell Address.

Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence, I conjure you to believe me, fellow citizens, the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake, since history and experience prove that foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of republican government. Europe has a set of primary interests which to us have none or a remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves by artificial ties in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it incurable, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. COUNTY ATTORNEY

To the Voters of Crow Wing county: In asking for re-election as County Attorney, I desire to state that I stand squarely upon my record, and ask that you compare my record as a public officer with that of my opponent.

I was busy in District Court from the first of May until after the Primary Election, and therefore could not see you, so that the votes I received at the Election, when nominated, were not because of personal solicitation or campaign. This I greatly appreciated and thank you for your support and for the confidence you placed in me.

I believe that my two years experience as county attorney makes me better qualified to perform the duties of the office if re-elected.

In actively prosecuting blind-piggers, disorderly houses, gamblers and other violators of the law as my court record will show, I have enforced the law and performed my duty, and in doing so, may have incurred the displeasure of some. This has taken much work and effort, but I believe that it has been appreciated by those who believe in Clean Government and enforcement of the law for which I stand.

I feel that my stand for Clean, Decent Government, Enforcement of the Law, Justice to all, and Special Privileges to None will be endorsed at the General Election November Third, because I have Confidence in the Common Citizens of Crow Wing County and Those Citizens who have the County's Future Development and Prosperity at Heart.

Very sincerely yours,

SIX FEET PARTED INTRENCHED FOES

Belgian Soldiers Could Hear Germans Whispering.

FIRE THROUGH THE MUD.

Volunteer Who Took Officers' Place When All His Superiors Were Killed Tells Story of Endurance and Valor on Banks of the Yser—Twenty-two Days' Continuous Fighting.

Writing from an unnamed place in Belgium, a correspondent of the London Daily News quotes a young volunteer member of a Belgian regiment which had been fighting, marching and drilling continuously for twenty-two days as follows:

"The town was evacuated by the Germans, and we were sent in at nightfall. As soon as they saw our lights they began shelling us. We lost terribly. We were 600 who went in and must have left a third there.

"In the morning we moved down to re-enforce a network of trenches on our bank of the Yser. We got into the trenches. They were full of water. I was firing for six hours myself thigh deep in muddy water.

Could Not Show Head or Hand.

"The Germans got across the bridge. We could not show head or hand over our bank. German machine guns shot us from crevices in their raised bank across the river only a few yards away. I was hours and hours dragging our wounded out of the cross trenches. We lost our officers, but I got the men to listen to me.

"Some Germans shelled us with a cross fire. They got into the cross trenches. They fired down our lines from the side. We had to run back. I was too tired and sleepy to drag my feet. I think I must have fallen asleep.

"We had an order to advance again. The French were behind us on either wing in support. I was too tired to get up. Some one kicked me. I looked up. They were three of my friends, volunteers like myself.

"I found myself running forward again. I called to men lying and running near and held my revolver at them. We were all charging with bayonets back at the Germans shooting us from our own trenches under the raised bank. They did not wait for us. They looked like frightened gray beetles as they scrambled up away over our bank and down into the river. It was dusk, but we shot at them over the bank. The water seemed full of them. We crouched in a big trench.

Heard the Enemy Whispering.

"There were perhaps 200 left of our 600. I think there was one officer further along, but it was quite dark. Some of the men talked very low. Then I heard voices whispering and talking near us on the river side of our bank. It was of earth perhaps five feet high and six feet thick. On the other side the slope fell steeply to the river.

"I sent a hush along the line. We listened quite silent. I thought I heard German words, an order passed along on the other side. I crawled up on to the bank, not showing my head, for I knew. It was really about 300 Germans who had stayed there on our side under the bank, fearing to cross the river under our fire. So we stayed all through the night. We did not sleep, nor did they.

"There was just six feet of piled wet earth between us. We only whispered and could hear them muttering and the sound of their belts creaking and of water bottles being opened.

"There was a thick gray mist hanging low in the morning. I crawled on to the bank again, holding my revolver outstretched. A gray figure stood up in the mist below close to me. He looked like a British soldier in khaki. He said, 'It's all right; we are English,' and I said, 'But your accent isn't,' and I shot him through with my revolver. Some of our men crept to the bank, but they shot them, and some of theirs climbed over, but we fired at their heads or arms as they showed only a few feet away, and they fell backward or on to us or lay hanging on the bank. Then we all waited.

Neither Side Dared Move.

"As it grew lighter they did not dare move away, and none of us could get out alive over the bank to use the bayonet. A few men made holes in the looser earth, and so we fired at each other through the bank here and there.

"Somebody threw a cartridge case across close to me. On a paper inside was scrawled one word—'Surrender!' We did not know if they wanted to surrender themselves or wanted us to surrender. They were more numerous, but we were better placed, so we went on scrapping and crawling around to get a shot at them.

"Perhaps it was the French who got around at the ends. There was heavy firing. We heard quite close through the raised bank a few slipping down on the river edge and water splashing. Some of us pulled ourselves up on to the bank. I heard our men scrambling up on either side of me, but could not see them. I think I was too sleepy. I shouted to charge and then must have fallen over on my head, rolling down the bank."

Of Course.

"Can you tell me which class of people live the longest?" "Why, centenarians, I believe."—Dallas News.

IF MEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapiesin" Ends Indigestion Gas, Dyspepsia and Stomach Misery in Five Minutes

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapiesin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapiesin" cranks as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.—Adv.

"Trey O' Hearts" tonight and Tuesday. This week is the 8th installment of this serial and it becomes more interesting every week. The management can bank on the usual crowded houses which this wonderful story draws. You will be able to see Judith pretending that she is Rose in her marriage to Allen; the gasoline tank blowing up the car in which Allen and Judith are escaping; Allen looking for Rose after discovering his mistake and seeing her rushed into a house pursued her only to find himself overpowered; a realistic fire from which Allen rescues Rose by a desperate and dangerous swing which is across the street.

Ford Sterling is at the Grand also, appearing in, "In and Out". Mrs. Murphy, the wife of a butcher, and Mrs. Schultz, the wife of a grocer, gossip across the street. Mr. Schultz invites Mrs. Murphy over. Their conversation develops into a quarrel while their husbands are playing cards in the back of a store. Schultz finds Murphy cheating which starts a fight. A riot is sent in to the police. Murphy and Schultz throw eggs and meat back and forth while the police try to reach them. When the police succeed they find themselves in the storm of eggs from which they retreat and let the crowd fight it out. A dollar bill for 10c every night.

AMERICA'S OPPORTUNITY.
There are altogether too many pessimists in this country who are kicking about the effect of the European war on business. Coming as it did immediately after a period of depression it kindled anew in the minds of some people the feeling that prosperity would not return for a long time. As a matter of fact the war's big cost will fall on Europe and as soon as the final treaties of peace are signed the commercial and financial ascendancy of the United States is bound to begin—then we will have to get busy and figure out ways and means to fill orders helping to rebuild Europe and we will have no time to lament over anything.

As a result of the war there has been a more or less disarrangement of business and finance, but it is now well in hand and will entirely recover as soon as peace is in sight—and that should be soon. This war has given the United States a greater opportunity to increase its foreign trade than any other country has ever had. German foreign commerce is practically stopped and the commerce of other European nations at war is very severely affected. A large part of this trade will surely come to us if we are properly equipped to take it over. The opportunity presented requires a first-class merchant marine which this country has not had since the Civil war. With the re-establishment of a merchant marine the commerce of the United States will again be transported to all parts of the world in American bottoms, and we will become the greatest financial power in the world. We believe some new records for big business are not far ahead for the entire United States of America. Let us supply America's needs. This alone will make business improve greatly.

SIX FEET PARTED INTRENCHED FOES

Belgian Soldiers Could Hear Germans Whispering.

FIRE THROUGH THE MUD.

Volunteer Who Took Officers' Place When All His Superiors Were Killed Tells Story of Endurance and Valor on Banks of the Yser—Twenty-two Days' Continuous Fighting.

Writing from an unnamed place in Belgium, a correspondent of the London Daily News quotes a young volunteer member of a Belgian regiment which had been fighting, marching and drilling continuously for twenty-two days as follows:

"The town was evacuated by the Germans, and we were sent in at night. As soon as they saw our lights they began shelling us. We lost terribly. We were 600 who went in and must have left a third there.

"In the morning we moved down to re-enforce a network of trenches on our bank of the Yser. We got into the trenches. They were full of water. I was firing for six hours myself thigh deep in muddy water.

Could Not Show Head or Hand.

"The Germans got across the bridge. We could not show head or hand over our bank. German machine guns shot us from crevices in their raised bank across the river only a few yards away. I was hours and hours dragging our wounded out of the cross trenches. We lost our officers, but I got the men to listen to me.

"Some Germans shelled us with a cross fire. They got into the cross trenches. They fired down our lines from the side. We had to run back. I was too tired and sleepy to drag my feet. I think I must have fallen asleep.

"We had an order to advance again. The French were behind us on either wing in support. I was too tired to get up. Some one kicked me. I looked up. They were three of my friends, volunteers like myself.

"I found myself running forward again. I called to men lying and running near and held my revolver at them. We were all charging with bayonets back at the Germans shooting us from our own trenches under the raised bank. They did not wait for us. They looked like frightened gray beetles as they scrambled up away over our bank and down into the river. It was dusk, but we shot at them over the bank. The water seemed full of them. We crouched in a big trench.

Heard the Enemy Whispering.

"There were perhaps 200 left of our 600. I think there was one officer further along, but it was quite dark. Some of the men talked very low. Then I heard voices whispering and talking near us on the river side of our bank. It was of earth perhaps five feet high and six feet thick. On the other side the slope fell steeply to the river.

I sent a hush along the line. We listened quite silent. I thought I heard German words, an order passed along on the other side. I crawled up on to the bank, not showing my head, for I knew. It was really about 300 Germans who had stayed there on our side under the bank, fearing to cross the river under our fire. So we stayed all through the night. We did not sleep, nor did they.

"There was just six feet of piled wet earth between us. We only whispered and could hear them muttering and the sound of their belts creaking and of water bottles being opened.

"There was a thick gray mist hanging low in the morning. I crawled up to the bank again, holding my revolver outstretched. A gray figure stood up in the mist below close to me. He looked like a British soldier in khaki. He said, 'It's all right; we are English,' and I said, 'But your accent isn't,' and I shot him through with my revolver. Some of our men crept to the bank, but they shot them, and some of theirs climbed over, but we fired at their heads or arms as they showed only a few feet away, and they fell backward or on to us or lay hanging on the bank. Then we all waited.

Neither Side Dared Move.

"As it grew lighter they did not dare move away, and none of us could get out alive over the bank to use the bayonet. A few men made holes in the looser earth, and so we fired at each other through the bank here and there.

"Somebody threw a cartridge case across close to me. On a paper inside was scrawled one word—'Surrender!' We did not know if they wanted to surrender themselves or wanted us to surrender. They were more numerous, but we were better placed, so we went on scrapping and crawling around to get a shot at them.

"Perhaps it was the French who got around at the ends. There was heavy firing. We heard quite close through the raised bank a few slipping down on the river edge and water splashing. Some of us pulled ourselves up on to the bank. I heard our men scrambling up on either side of me, but could not see them. I think I was too sleepy. I shouted to charge and then must have fallen over on my head, rolling down the bank."

Of Course.

"Can you tell me which class of people live the longest?" "Why, centaurs, I believe."—Dallas News.

IF MEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Ends Indigestion Gas, Dyspepsia and Stomach Misery in Five Minutes

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate your undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.—Advt.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Grand

"Trey O' Hearts" tonight and Tuesday. This week is the 8th installment of this serial and it becomes more interesting every week. The management can bank on the usual crowded houses which this wonderful story draws. You will be able to see Judith pretending that she is Rose in her marriage to Allen; the gasoline tank blowing up the car in which Allen and Judith are escaping; Allen looking for Rose after discovering his mistake and seeing her rushed into a house pursued her only to find himself overpowered; a realistic fire from which Allen rescues Rose by a desperate and dangerous swing which is across the street.

Ford Sterling is at the Grand also, appearing in "In and Out". Mrs. Murphy, the wife of a butcher, and Mrs. Schultz, the wife of a grocer, gossip across the street. Mr. Schultz invites Mrs. Murphy over. Their conversation develops into a quarrel while their husbands are playing cards in the back of a store. Schultz finds Murphy cheating which starts a fight. A riot is sent in to the police. Murphy and Schultz throw eggs and meat back and forth while the police try to reach them. When the police succeed they find themselves in the storm of eggs from which they retreat and let the crowd fight it out. A dollar bill for 10c every night.

At the Columbia

Not many who attended the theatre last night knew that the leading man in the Pathe play "Dutch Love" was killed only a few weeks ago near the French border. As a play typical of Holland it is highly to be commended. Broncho Billy was very good and the comedy was one along new lines. Tomorrow hundreds will

AMERICA'S OPPORTUNITY.
There are altogether too many pessimists in this country who are kicking about the effect of the European war on business. Coming as it did immediately after a period of depression it kindled anew in the minds of some people the feeling that prosperity would not return for a long time. As a matter of fact the war's big cost will fall on Europe and as soon as the final treaties of peace are signed the commercial and financial ascendancy of the United States is bound to begin—then we will have to get busy and figure out ways and means to fill orders helping to rebuild Europe and we will have no time to lament over anything.

As a result of the war there has been a more or less disarrangement of business and finance, but it is now well in hand and will entirely stop as soon as peace is in sight—and that should be soon.
This war has given the United States a greater opportunity to increase its foreign trade than any other country has ever had. German foreign commerce is practically stopped and the commerce of other European nations at war is very severely affected. A large part of this trade will surely come to us if we are properly equipped to take it over. The opportunity presented requires a first-class merchant marine which this country has not had since the Civil war. With the re-establishment of a merchant marine the commerce of the United States will again be transported to all parts of the world in American bottoms, and we will become the greatest financial power in the world. We believe some new records for big business are not far ahead for the entire United States of America. Let us supply America's needs. This alone will make business improve greatly.
